Cabernet Sauvignon Howell Mountain Beatty 2002

The 2002 Beatty Ranch Cabernet Sauvignon is a benchmark wine from this famous mountain. Beatty Cabernets are always vigorous, sometimes aggressive wines of great power and weight. This wine has berry aromas and flavors of the appellation but even more so, a true terroir that is unmistakable from this vineyard. Very similar in structure to the 2001 vintage, this wine will be showy in just 4-6 years from now with a long life beyond that.

The wine is made from mountain-grown fruit so nature intensifies the grape's flavors. The wine is made so the fruit flavors come through and the tannins are softer. This makes for a very approachable wine that requires little or no aging yet will age nicely for several years gaining even more complexity.
